

Dashboards

The Systax DFE tool processes the XML files, extracting the main information from their content, which are then fed to some “cubes” of information for usage in a Business Intelligence (BI) platform. Listed below are the Dashboards initially created in the system, readily available and constantly updated for the clients.

Warning: Clients that have the advanced version of Systax DFE will be able to contract an access with special powers, which allows them to build searches and dashboards with all the available data in the existing cubes. If you’d like more information about this resource, please consult your contact on the Systax team.
